

Imagine...

A place you can go whenever you need health care

Where you have your own personal family doctor, who knows you, your history, and your story

Where your care is continuous and seamless

Where you feel at home and comfortable to present and discuss your own and your family's health concerns

Imagine...

A place where your doctor and a network of other health professionals work together as a team

Where everyone on that team respects and listens to you, your family, and each other

Where your doctor and team coordinate all the health and medical services you need,

Where you take part in making decisions about your care

Imagine...

A place that is centred on you and your needs, that gives you excellent health care at every stage of your life

Imagine a place you can call your Medical Home.

The College of Family Physicians of Canada imagines a vision for family practice:

The Patient's Medical Home
